By Crosby & Ennist, No. 2 & 4 Union avenue, Rondout, N. Y.
Now as the chilling winds of Autumn are advancing and all nature is beginning to assume the sombre garb we are reminded that we too much prepare clothing suitable to the approaching cold season, to shield ourselves from the wintry blasts which will soon be upon us. In order to meet the wants of Ladies, Misses and Children we have laid in an immense stock of JACKETS, WRAPS and CLOAKS which we offer at prices from 20 PER CENT to 35 PER CENT, less than former rates. As we did not carry any old stock over, our goods are new and desirable in quality and style. Made up in the latest fashion from the best selected goods. We guarantee perfect satisfaction in every particular. We are also prepared to meet all wants in Dress Goods, Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves and Domestic of all kinds.
We still adhere to "live and let live" prices and respectfully ask an inspection of our stock before buying elsewhere.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

CLEVELAND'S majority is down to 3,363 in Virginia, and will be reduced 1,000 more when the returns are in. This can hardly be called a solid condition.

HARRISON'S majority in Kansas is 75,000.
This is one of Chairman Brice's "doubtful" states, where the farmers were said to be actually crying for revenue reform.

VICE-PRESIDENT-ELECT MORTON is going to Philadelphia to review the parade of Union League veterans next Saturday night.
Thirty-five thousand men will be in line.

JOE CHAMBERLAIN and Miss Endicott would have been married several months ago except for Mr. Cleveland's request to have the affair postponed till after election. All objections are now removed, and the wedding will take place next Thursday.

THE County Democrats of New York are talking seriously about using their strength in the Legislature in conjunction with the Republicans, to give the state high license and ballot reform. One vote in the Senate and three in the Assembly would suffice to render Hill's vetoes innocuous.

MISS ENDICOTT, who marries Joseph Chamberlain to-morrow, is 25 years old.
Chamberlain is 52, has been married twice,
and has six children, one of them a daughter 24 years old. And the young woman does not even get a title. The Endicotts are unhappy over the affair, especially as it removes their daughter to England.

MR. TILDEN'S wines brought in the aggregate about $6,000 yesterday, or less than half they were worth. The sale was timed to bring the fluids into use for the celebration of the great Democratic victory. If the owner had lived the victory might have happened. But then there would have been no wine.

HARRISON'S majority in Pennsylvania is 79,779; Blaine's is 81,019. The difference is 1,240 in favor of Blaine, and is due to his tremendous popularity in Philadelphia.
There his majority was 30,000, whereas Harrison's is only 18,402. Harrison ran ahead of Blaine in 50 counties; Blaine ahead of Harrison in 17.

THE more the Delaware Democrats consider the proposal to count out a Republican Senator, the more they think they will not do it. They have heard from the Republican majority in the House that if one Republican is counted out from the Senate, seven Democrats will follow him from the House. And this is why Republicans laugh at the Democratic agony.

THOMAS L. BOTTIS, a New York insurance broker, lost more money on Cleveland's election than he could pay. He began to make payments on the installment plan, but the process was so slow and hopeless that he became discouraged and began to drink heavily.
Yesterday he went to the Hotel Royal, procured a room, and settled all his bets and other debts by sending a bullet through his brain.

SOME American soldiers at Fort Hancock on the Rio Grande, who went over into Mexico with their guns last Sunday for a hunting bout, have been captured for making an armed invasion of the country. Here is an opportunity for Mr. Cleveland to declare war. It is too late now to make it a campaign issue, it is true, but he could add something to his military renown by taking the field in person as Commander-in-Chief.

GOV. GORDON tells the people of Georgia that they need have no fear of a Republican administration, and advises them to "take courage in the thought that our interest is the interest of the Northern people, our prosperity their prosperity, our state freedom their state freedom." It is just beginning to penetrate the Bourbon skull that the North and South are one country, and that it is better to be prosperous than to kick eternally at imaginary wrongs.

SMITH WEED declares, after election, that
"the people of this country are for protection." And he adds that if Carlisle, Mills & Co. remain the rulers in the councils of the party in 1892, another crushing defeat must be expected. "This element," he says,
"must be either eliminated or suppressed if we expect success." The people will be very curious to see what there is left of the Democratic party after the process of elimination and suppression has been completed in accordance with Mr. Weed's ideas.

THE Philadelphia Press has official returns from all the counties of West Virginia, and they show Goff, the Republican candidate for Governor, to be elected by 47 majority.
The Democrats, however, are preparing to steal the state by throwing out the vote of Mercer county on technical objections. This throwing out the vote will also give the Democrats a majority in the Legislature. The Republican Congressmen-elect who have been counted out have a remedy in the contests that they will institute.

THERE is a new Anarchist movement in Chicago. The organization is known to number 5,000 able-bodied men, and they are said to "sleep on their arms." Every movement is watched by detectives, but the disturbers are careful to keep within the law. Anarchy Sunday schools are an established institution, in which children are taught to hate law and the civil authorities. A day for an uprising has been set. These facts are likely to raise the question whether the United States is big enough to hang 5,000 scoundrels if necessary.
This question is not as large as it looks.

CHAIRMAN BRICE is said by the Cincinnati Enquirer to have sacrificed a good share of his comfortable fortune in the campaign.
He showed his faith in making it one of "infidelity" by spending his money to print documents and keep speakers in the field. The country should not underestimate Brice's efforts to educate and elevate his party, even in the face of that quite apposite remark in the Scriptures about casting "pearls before swine." Brice has learned something. He now realizes that the time for spending money in Democratic education is after the polls are opened. This country will never see another Democratic campaign of intellect.

DOWNER'S GROVE, Ill., Nov. 14.—A fast freight running east on the south track of the Burlington Road last evening struck a frog and jumped the track just in time to catch the engine of a crowded suburban passenger train which had pulled out of Downers. At the end of a minute there was not much left of the passenger engine and both the engineer and firemen were so badly mangled that they will die.
Alongside the track the fragments of the engine lay as they had been torn and twisted apart, while a stretch of demolished freight cars which had been slivered and torn to kindling wood obstructed the three tracks for some distance. No passengers were seriously hurt.

TWO INNOCENT SPECTATORS SHOT

During an Affray in a Burke Mining Camp Saloon in Idaho.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SPOKANE, IDAHO, Nov. 14.—A serious shooting affray occurred at Burke's mining camp, in Northern Idaho, last night.
Charles Garrett, colored, and Joseph Morgan,
white, were drinking in McDonald's saloon, and engaged in an altercation. Both men drew revolvers and opened fire.
Though the combatants could not see each other on account of smoke which followed the first few shots they blazed away until their revolvers were emptied. James Shannon, a bystander, was shot in the stomach and cannot live. William Lyman, another spectator, was shot through the shoulder, and Garrett's arm was almost shot off. Morgan escaped to the mountains.

The Board of Supervisors of Ulster County convened at the Court House, Kingston, last night. Prior to the meeting the supervisors of both parties held a caucus, and decided upon candidates for Chairman, Clerk, Counsel and Jail Physician.

Supervisor Irving Devo was chosen Temporary Chairman. Supervisor Flannigan moved that the Board proceed to ballot for Permanent Chairman.

Supervisor Craft moved as an amendment that each Supervisor name his candidate.

A vote was taken for Chairman. Supervisor C. Meech Woolsey received 14 votes and Joseph J. Hasbrouck 12. Mr. Woolsey was declared elected. Supervisors VanEtten and Hasbrouck were appointed to escort him to the Chair. Mr. Woolsey addressed the Board. He thanked the members for the honor conferred. While doing his duty as Supervisors they should know no party. They were there to perform a public trust, and protect the interests of the people of the County. They were not to be influenced by any unreasonable, but they were to act impartially and fairly between the County on the one hand and the people who have performed service for the County on the other. Give every man what he is fairly entitled to under the law.

ROUNDOUT'S NEW WEATHER SIGNAL.
 How to Read the Dials—The Indications of Fair and Stormy Weather.

O woman! it is the swallow which announces the spring.

In the cabinet of the "Weather Signal" recently placed on the Mansion House, Roundout, are the following directions: For summer and autumn fair weather is indicated by wind from north to north-east, with rising barometer. Heavy wind or rain is indicated by the wind being from south-east to south-west, with falling barometer and rising thermometer. A sudden fall of barometer, with west wind, signals a storm from the north-west, and also from the north-east. Showers are indicated by the barometer falling from north to south, with a wind coming varying from two to six hours. A strong wind from the south-east carries a storm over this locality. If wind has been blowing strong from west-north-west or north, look out for cold weather and higher barometer. As the wind abates the storm center is near; if it changes to south, the storm is moving east; if it changes to south-west the storm has passed. Storms from the north-west are of short duration; if the wind suddenly shifts, expect colder weather. In winter, when spring the weather is indicated as follows: East wind shows a storm in the south and cool, clear weather in the north. If followed by west wind, cooler weather with a north wind and higher barometer. Falling barometer, with rising thermometer, signals snow or sleet from south to south-west. Changes of wind during the day shows unsettled weather. A rising barometer, with wind from north or north-east, signals cold and fair weather. A sudden fall of barometer, with wind from north or north-east signals a storm from north-west and north-east. If a strong wind from west, north-west or north gradually becomes calm, expect increasing cold and higher barometer. Storms from the north-west are of short duration.

How to tell velocity of the wind: The speed dial is divided into four parts or quadrants. If the needle records one-quarter mile in one minute it will record one mile in four minutes, otherwise 15 miles in 60 minutes or one mile if it records one minute, or if it is accomplished in one minute the speed is 60 miles per hour, and if it is done in eight minutes the speed is seven and one-half miles per hour.

KINGSTON PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.
 Professor Hulslander Made a Pertinent Remark or Two, Last Night.

As we can, according to the old saying, when we cannot, as we would—Seneca.

At the rehearsal of the Kingston City Philharmonic Society, last night, after several numbers had been sung Professor Hulslander said the lady members were making excellent progress. That could not be said of the gentlemen. They were so irregular in attendance that they could not expect to be proficient. The Professor, however, with rising voice, there was much yet for the gentlemen to do. He hoped to see every gentleman present at the three rehearsals to be given before the opening of the festival. The next rehearsal will take place next Wednesday night.

GOSHEN'S VOCAL SOCIETY.
 The members of the Goshen Vocal Society are endeavoring to make their next concert the best ever held by the organization. They are actively rehearsing.

Morse, of Hyde Park, Mass., and George B. Merritt, William Hutten, Thomas H. Tremper, and B. Bernard, of this City. The name of the company is "The Kingston Electric Light, Heat and Power Company." The amount of capital stock is $50,000. The limit of incorporation is 50 years.

One to Sleep Again.
 The Catskill Mail says that that ancient village has again gone to sleep.

SOME MORE ELECTION AFTERMATH.

The Showy Uniform and the Smoky Torch Have Been Cast Aside.

Nearer anything can be said, as it is said, "The Showy Uniform and the Smoky Torch Have Been Cast Aside."

Rockland County has elected a Republican Sheriff for the first time in 80 years.

The victory of protection over free trade was celebrated at Walden, last evening. Hundreds of Salt River tickets have been sent by Kingston Republicans to their Democratic friends.

Many ardent Republicans of this City will go to Washington on March 4 to witness the inauguration of President Harrison.

At about 5 o'clock last evening the Democratic banner over Union avenue, Rondout, was taken down. There was no booming of cannon, no fireworks and no cheering while the work was being done.

A Prohibition "arguer" on one of the streets in Kingston attracted attention, this morning. The Prohibitionist was not in favor of restricting saloons. He was an anti-licensure burrah-for-Governor-Hill man.

The victorious Republican banner that hung across Union avenue, Rondout, this morning, was taken down, and the building opposite, was built up this afternoon. The pictures of Harrison and Morton will be preserved.

It now transpires that the burning of Cleveland in effigy by Republicans in Middletown was an invention of the Argus. It was "the free trade baby" that was hung and burned and not an effigy of the apostle of free trade.

The Republicans of Saugerties held a jubilee last evening over the victory of the Grand Old Party. The procession was a large one, and the display of fireworks and illuminations were fine. At the close of the street demonstration Maxwell Hall was packed with people. Addresses were made. Two bands discoursed music, and the members of the Glee Club sang patriotic songs.

The schooner Minnie C. Post, Captain Isaac Hotelling, entered the Rondout Creek this morning, with a cargo of Sing Sing lime. On the extreme end of the vessel's bow-spit was a broom, and on the end of the after boom was an American flag and a rooster. In this way the Captain is celebrating the election of Harrison and Morton. On the journey up the Hudson the Post was greeted with noisy demonstrations by passing steamboats.

Last night Wall-street, Kingston, was crowded with people, attracted thither by the announcement that a novel election bet would be settled. By and by the beat of drums were heard, and a party of men with banners and flags came with quick step up the street. One of the members of the party, Isadore Pinner, wheeled a wheel-barrow. In it was seated Charles G. Cooper. Cooper voted for Harrison, and during an argument with Pinner it was agreed that if Harrison was elected Cooper should wheel Pinner, and if Harrison was elected Pinner should wheel Cooper. On Cooper's banner were the words: "In 1884 I voted for Cleveland and had to walk. In 1888 I voted for Harrison, and now I ride."

The showy uniform and smoky torch have been cast aside. The enthusiastic "Three cheers for the illumination boys," has ceased. The booming of cannon that so loudly proclaimed the victory has been hushed and the smoke of battle is slowly clearing away. The members of the Republican campaign clubs of Rondout feel proud of the part they took in the election of the two great leaders of Protection to American Industries. It will be a long time ere they forget the long tramp in the mud in Marlborough and their experiences at Ellerslie, Rineclerk, Red Bank, Port Ewen, etc. They did their share of work well, and now they have the satisfaction of knowing that they did not cheer, tramp, and whoop-up for naught. The principles they represented will be carried out by their standard-bearers and the "good old times will come again."

SLY SHOP-LIFTERS IN ROUNDOUT.
 Merchants and their Clerks who Say They Are Unable to Detect the Culprits.

The losing side is full of suspicion. Henry V. Rondout merchants are annoyed by shop-lifters. Frequently bundles are missed and the clerks, when questioned about the matter, cannot explain. The petty thieving is done chiefly by women. A few days ago a woman purchased a bill of goods in a store on The Strand. She left her daughter in the store to watch the bundle until she returned from making purchases at other places. On her return the bundle was gone. The little girl said that she did not stir from the counter where it had been placed, and could not know how any person could have taken it without her knowledge, although she had noticed a woman close by her who eyed her and the bundle sharply. The proprietor of the store made efforts to recover the woman's bundle and detect the thief, but was unsuccessful.

BEFORE RECORDER HUSSEY.
 This forenoon Thomas McCullough, the young man who was arrested on a charge of entering Washington Hall, Rondout, stealing an overcoat, etc., was arraigned before the Recorder. George Brown, the complainant, "magnanimously" withdrew the complaint, and after McCullough had paid $50 costs, he was discharged.

A Pole named George Mackinski, of Rondout, obtained a warrant of Recorder Hussey this forenoon, for the arrest of two men, who, as Mackinski alleges in the complaint, on the night of November 3, knocked him down on Ann-street and robbed him of $20.

Defendant Mackinski took place in the case, and it was adjourned until December.

OTHER PHASES OF THE SEAMY SIDE.
 There has been much petty thievery recently in the town of Olive.

On Saturday night the stable and wagon house of E. M. VanSanten, at Lithgow, Dutchess County, was broken into and a valuable pair of horses, wagon, harness, blankets and whip were stolen.

THE WOES OF UNFORTUNATE PEOPLE.
 Drowned in the Hudson River at Tivoli—A Machinist Injured at Port-Jervis.

We have by no means been unacquainted with woe.—Homer.

Thursday night the butler employed by J. Ludlow was drowned by walking off the dock at Tivoli into the river.—Saugerties Post.

One day recently while John Volkmer, of Port-Jervis, was engaged "feeding" a steam auger in the Erie shops there, his leg was caught in the machine and the auger passed through his arm.

Gardiner Briefs.
 The sociable held at Tuthill, for the benefit of the Sunday School, was largely attended. The proceeds will be used for a Christmas tree.

While Mrs. James DuBois and daughter were out riding one day last week, were thrown from the wagon, and both received many bruises but no serious injuries.

Real Estate Notes.

Solomon Hynes has sold, through John McCausland's agency, property on Staples-street, Rondout, to Professor C. W. Louis Stiehl.

 The excursion to New-York City on the steamer "City of Kingston," under the auspices of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, was enjoyed.

FREE MASONS CELEBRATE.

THE CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY OF THE ORDER IN NEWBURGH.

Two Hundred Craftsmen Participated in The Exercises and Were Refreshed By an Old-Fashioned Supper—Recalling Old Times.

Those who have been before us have done much, but have not finished everything; yet they are to be looked up to.—Seneca.

A dispatch from Newburgh to THE FREEMAN to-day stated: The Centennial Anniversary of the establishment of Free Masonry in this place was celebrated here last night by Hudson River Lodge, No. 607. Nearly 200 Masons participated. Steuben Lodge, the first lodge in the place, was organized here 100 years ago, and was named after General Steuben. A General who took a prominent part in the War of the Revolution heretofore. The original charter of Steuben Lodge from the Grand Lodge, also the minute book of Steuben Lodge are in possession of Hudson River Lodge and were exhibited last night. A history of Steuben Lodge and of Masonry in Newburgh was given in an eloquent speech by Charles H. Halsted, a distinguished Free Mason of this City. The Anniversary exercises terminated with a supper of the old-fashioned kind—Boston baked beans, brown bread, Indian pudding, baked apples, sweet cider, etc. Altogether it was one of the most noteworthy Centennial celebrations held in this vicinity.

OTHER SOCIETY NOTES.
 Rondout's Good Templars will meet in regular session on Friday next.

A regular convocation of Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T., will be held this evening.

A HEAVY FOG ON THE HUDSON RIVER.
 Steamboats, Tows and Sailing Craft Compelled to Lay To for Hours.

Like a pall: none could see.—Frank.

One of the densest fogs on the Hudson River this year was that of last night and early this morning. "For several hours navigation practically ceased. Pilots could not see the bows of the boats they were on, and the shores were completely hidden from view by the heavy mass of vapor that enveloped everything. The night passenger steamboats from Troy and Albany were anchored off Hyde Park until daylight this morning. The propeller J. H. Cordis, bound south with a tow, was anchored near the Poughkeepsie Bridge. The pilot said that he ran into one bank of fog that was so thick that a light but few feet away was completely obliterated from view. The propeller J. M. North, from Newburgh to Rondout, with a tow, remained off Hyde Park from 2 to 8 o'clock. Other north and south-bound tows are from six to eight hours late. Boatmen say that there was no gradual gathering of the fog, but that it came on suddenly. Sailing vessels dropped anchor all along the River.

OTHER BOATS AND BOATMEN.
 The tug Ellen M. Roman and Saranac were aground on the flats opposite Athens, Saturday morning.

They arrived at tide-water, at Edenville, yesterday, 44 Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 5,720 tons of coal.

The whistle of the steamer "City of Kingston" was blown at the mouth of the Rondout Creek at 8:50 o'clock last night.

To date the propeller J. H. Cordis, owned by the Cornell Steamboat Company, has made the largest number of round trips between Rondout and New-York of any propeller in that line, this season.

The steambot Mary Powell will be "wintered" in the Hudson River at Kingston Point. It will be taken there on Saturday. Captain Anderson secured the services of a mud-digger, Rineclerk, Red Bank, Port Ewen, etc. They did their share of work well, and now they have the satisfaction of knowing that they did not cheer, tramp, and whoop-up for naught. The principles they represented will be carried out by their standard-bearers and the "good old times will come again."

A Mistake in a Restaurant.
 An amusing incident occurred in a Rondout restaurant yesterday. One of two brothers, who resemble each other closely, entered the restaurant for his dinner. As he seated himself at the table he was recognized by a friend. After a time the man left the restaurant and his brother entered. The friend, who still was keeping his knife and fork in motion, nodded familiarly again and began winking at the other brother, mistaking him for the first one. Soon the mutual friends of the two brothers and the truthfulness of the mind of the other brother that the friend had taken him for his brother, and was enjoying the joke of his brother eating two dinners, one right after the other. The other brother smiled and said: "I do look like my brother, but my brother's stomach is different from mine."

What a Bicycle Says.
 A Kingston bicyclist said to-day: "One of the most difficult things is to learn to ride a wheel on a narrow path. It is the only way a bicyclist can ride in the country in Ulster County. There are paths at the side of nearly every road. The roads are in no condition to run wheels on, but a wheel will run smoothly and swiftly on a path. In learning to ride my wheel on paths I had many tumbles. I had headers, I ran down banks; for these paths in some places are so close to the edge of banks that if your wheel does not follow exactly in the path, you are liable to lose your balance when you go down. Once I fell over a picket fence, then again down a steep embankment with the wheel on top of me. Now I can ride my wheel on a path a few inches wide without the slightest danger of losing my balance."

What a "Smart" Boy Said.
 This forenoon at the West Shore Railroad Station in this City, a small boy who is sharp at repartee, said to a group of men: "Four months after President Harrison takes his seat in the White House at Washington all the fogs in this country will be closed."

"How is that?" eagerly inquired a Democrat, who believed he saw a good point for an argument in the lad's remark.

"Because it will be the Fourth of July then, and nobody will want to work on that day," replied the hoodlum, much to the laughter of the Democrat, who was laughed at by his companions.

Two Old Deeds.
 Two old deeds were recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's office, Kingston, yesterday. One deed, dated June 15, 1818, was given by Elias Hommel and wife to Hermanus Hommel, of Saugerties. A TUSSELS WITH A BIG BEAR.

AS RELATED BY A CORRESPONDENT OF "THE FREEMAN."

The Adventure that Two Hunters Had Near Diamond Notch, in the Famous Stony Clove, a Day or Two Ago—Caught in a Trap.

"Give me a penny and I will tell you a story."

A correspondent of THE FREEMAN at Lanesville writes: A day or two ago, Asa Cronley, accompanied by an old trapper named Guilfuss, tramped through the Catskill Mountains in this vicinity to a point known as Diamond Notch, to ascertain if steel traps which they had set contained any bears. The men trudged along through the deep bed of decaying leaves that covered the ground, till they were within a short distance from their destination, when they heard the rattling of a chain on the opposite side of a ledge of rocks.

"A bear 'f gosh!" exclaimed the elder of the two men, and sure enough, it was a bear and a big fellow at that. The shaggy beast moved slowly and painfully, and dragged along with it the broken paw from which it was making desperate efforts to escape. As the trappers approached the partially imprinted animal growled fiercely and made a lunge for Guilfuss.

Hunter Cronley's dog Jumbo distracted the bear's attention by chasing the brute, and wounded him between the teeth. With a howl of pain the bear caught the dog in its embrace and nearly crushed the breath out of it before either of the hunters could do anything for the canine's relief. Neither of the hunters wanted to shoot, for their ambition was to make a skin of the bear, and they took it out of the brute's tough hide by the show of blows that compelled it at last to drop the half-dead Jumbo.

The infuriated bear now "went" for Cronley and he would have done a hard work with the hunter had he not unheated a long hunting knife and plunged it into the bear behind the ear. Bruin rolled over dead. The carcass was unusually fine and weighed 272 pounds.

Cronley's favorite dog Jumbo, is expected to die from the effects of the severe hugging it received, and the well-known dog's expected demise has caused quite a commotion among the staid county people hereabout.

SOME AFFAIRS OF LOCAL RAILROADS.
 How the West Shore Railroad Carries for Its Employees—Wages Paid to Switchmen.

"The iron horse is a conqueror."

Switchmen on the New York Central Railroad will hereafter receive $45 per month and extra pay for Sunday services; head brakemen $65 and ordinary brakemen $60 for day work, and $70 and $75 for night work, respectively.

The new railroad men's building of the West Shore road, near Durham, was completed recently. It is a handsome, two-story structure, with reading and amusement rooms, parlor and bathing facilities, and being located where many of the engineers, firemen and shompen live, it is expected to be freely patronized. There is already a membership of 125, which is expected to be increased to 200 before long. Mr. Vanderbilt contributed to the funds for erecting the building. General Superintendent C. W. Bradley, of the West Shore road, who is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the depot, had charge of the opening exercises.

[From the Monticello Republican.]

Many have been the cruel jokes perpetrated at the expense of that truly rural station on the P. J. M. & N. Y. road known as Paradise. Some of them may be, doubtless, are, but the majority of them, nevertheless, they all go towards making up a chapter comprising the cruel jokes to which that desolate innocent station has for years been the uncomplaining victim. On reaching that point one is apt to hear such remarks as these: "If this is Paradise it is as far towards heaven as I want to go." "If this is Paradise what must its antipodes be?" Another will soliloquize to himself: "O, Paradise, O, Paradise, I'm weary waiting here," and again some inconsiderate mortal will laugh right out when the name is called. And now, some of the brackens all out the station in an undertone, as if dreading the remarks of unregenerate passengers.

Supervisors VanEtten and Hasbrouck were appointed to escort him to the Chair. Mr. Woolsey thanked the members for the honor conferred. While doing his duty as Supervisors they should know no party. RONDOUT'S NEW WEATHER SIGNAL.

How to Read the Dial.—The Indications of Fair and Stormy Weather.

A woman: It is the swallow which announces the spring.—Philomena.

In the cabinet of the "Weather Signal" recently placed on the Mansion House, Rondout, are the following directions: For summer and autumn fair weather is indicated by wind from north to north-east, with rising barometer. Heavy wind or rain is indicated by the wind being from south-east to south-west, with falling barometer and rising thermometer. A sudden fall of barometer, with west wind, signals a storm from the north-west, and a rise from north-east. Showers are indicated by the barometer falling from one to three-tenths inches, the time of coming varying from two to six hours. A strong wind from the south-east carries a storm over this locality. If wind has been blowing strong from west-north-west or north, look out for cold weather and higher barometer. As the wind abates the storm center is near; if it changes to south, the storm is moving east; if it changes to south-west the storm has passed. Storms from the north-west are of short duration; if the wind suddenly lulls, expect colder weather. For winter and spring the weather is indicated as follows: East wind shows a storm in the south and cool, clear weather in the north. If followed by a cold west wind, cooler weather with a north wind and higher barometer. Falling barometer, with rising thermometer, signals snow or sleet from south-east to south-west. Changes of wind during the day show unsettled weather. A rising barometer, with wind from north or north-east, signals cool and fair weather. A sudden fall of barometer, with wind from north or north-east signals storm from north-west and north-east. If a strong wind from west, north-west or north gradually becomes calm, expect increasing cold and higher barometer. Storms from the north-west are of short duration.

How to tell velocity of the wind: The speed dial is divided into four parts or quadrants. If the needle records one-quarter mile in one minute it will record one mile in four minutes, other parts of the dial follow in the same ratio. If it records one mile in two minutes the speed is 30 miles per hour; or if it is accomplished in one minute the speed is 60 miles per hour, and if it is done in eight minutes the speed is seven and one-half miles per hour.

KINGSTON PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

Professor Hulsander Made a Pertinent Remark or Two, Last Night.

As we can, according to the old saying, when we cannot, as we would not, be so sure of it. At the rehearsal of the Kingston City Philharmonic Society, last night, after several numbers had been sung Professor Hulsander said the lady members were making excellent progress. That could not be said of the gentlemen. They were so irregular in attendance that they could not expect to be proficient. The Professor urged the gentlemen to do better. There was much to be said for the gentlemen to do. He hoped to see every gentleman present at the three rehearsals to be given before the opening of the festival. The next rehearsal will take place next Wednesday night.

Gone to Sleep Again.

The Catskill Mail says that that ancient village has again gone to sleep.

SOME MORE ELECTION AFTERMATH.

The Showy Uniform and the Smoky Torch Have Been Cast Aside.

Never again can come amity, When simplicity and duty tender it. William Henry Channing.

Rondout County has elected a Republican Sheriff for the first time in 30 years.

The victory of protection over free trade was celebrated at Walden, last evening. Hundreds of Salt River tickets have been sent by Kingston Republicans to their Democratic friends.

Many ardent Republicans of this City will go to Washington on March 4 to witness the inauguration of President Harrison.

At about 5 o'clock last evening the Democratic banner over Union avenue, Rondout, was taken down. There was no booming of cannon, no fireworks and no cheering while the work was being done.

A Prohibition "arguer" on one of the streets in Kingston attracted attention this morning. The Prohibitionist was not in favor of restricting saloons. He was an anti-liquorist, but for Governor Hill man.

The victorious Republican banner that hung across Union-avenue, Rondout, from the Freeman building to the building opposite, was taken down this afternoon. The pictures of Harrison and Morton will be preserved.

It now transpires that the burning of Cleveland in effigy by Republicans in Middlebury, in the Argus, was "the free trade baby" that was hung and burned and not an effigy of the apostle of free trade.

The Republicans of Saugerties held a jubilee last evening over the victory of the Grand Old Party. The procession was a large one, and the display of fireworks and the illuminations were fine. At the close of the street demonstration Maxwell Hall was packed with people. Addresses were made. Two bands discoursed music, and the members of the Glee Club sang patriotic songs.

The schooner Minnie C. Post, Captain Isaac Hotelling, entered the Rondout Creek this morning, with a cargo of Sing line.

On the extreme end of the vessel's bow-sprit was a broom, and on the end of the after boom was an American flag and a rooster. In this way the Captain is celebrating the election of Harrison and Morton. On the journey up the Hudson the Post was greeted with noisy demonstrations by passing steamboats.

Last night Wall-street, Kingston, was crowded with people, attracted thither by the announcement that a novel election bet would be settled. By and by the heat of drums were heard, and a party of men with banners and flags came in a quick step up the street.

On the members of the party, Isadore Pinner, wheeled a wheel-barrow. In it was seated Charles G. Cooper. Cooper voted for Harrison, and during an argument with Pinner it was agreed that if Harrison was voted well, and the display of fireworks and the illuminations were fine. At the close of the street demonstration Maxwell Hall was packed with people. Addresses were made. Two bands discoursed music, and the members of the Glee Club sang patriotic songs.

The showy uniform and smoky torch have been cast aside. The enthusiasm of the election has been cooled. The cheering has ceased. The booming of cannon that so loudly proclaimed the victory has been hushed and the smoke of battle is slowly clearing away. The members of the Republican campaign clubs of Rondout feel proud of the part they took in the election of the two great leaders of Protection to American Industries. It will be a long time ere they forget the long tramp in the mud in Marlborough and their experiences at Ellerslie, Rhinebeck, Red Hook, Port Jervis, etc. They did their share of work well, and now they have the satisfaction of knowing that they did not cheer, tramp, and whoop-up for naught. The principles they represented will be carried out by their standard-bearers and the "good old times" will come again.

SLY SHOP-LIFTERS IN RONDOUT.

Merchants and Their Clerks who Say They Are Unable to Detect the Culprits.

The losing side is full of suspicion.—Henry Fry.

Rondout merchants are annoyed by shop-lifters. Frequently bundles are missed and the clerks, when questioned about the matter, cannot explain. The petty thiefing is done chiefly by women. A few days ago a woman purchased a bill of goods in a store on The Strand. She left her daughter in the store to watch the bundle until she returned from making purchases at other places. On her return the bundle was gone. The little girl said that she did not stir from the counter where it had been placed, and could not see how any person could have taken it without her knowledge, although she had noticed a woman close by her eye-brows raised and her hand near the bundle. The proprietor of the store made efforts to recover the woman's bundle and detect the thief, but was unsuccessful.

BEFORE RECORDER HUSSEY.

This forenoon Thomas McCullough, the young man who was arrested on a charge of entering Washington Hall, Rondout, stealing an overcoat, etc., was arraigned before the Recorder, George Brown, the complainant, and the Recorder's clerk, J. H. Hussey, in complaint, and after McCullough had paid $5 costs, he was discharged.

A Pole named George Machinski, of Rondout, obtained a warrant of Recorder Hussey this forenoon, for the arrest of two men, who, as Machinski alleges in the complaint, on the night of November 3, knocked him down and robbed him of $20. Before the alleged robbery took place Machinski said that he and a number of companions were drinking beer in a cellar in that more or less detectable neighborhood.

The case of Edward Gallup, the young man who was arrested in Albany and locked up in the Ulster County Jail, in Kingston, on complaint of Isaac Haugh, an installment man of Albany, who has a branch store in this City, came before Recorder Hussey this afternoon. Gallup is charged with obtaining a clock and four rugs from the store to sell on the installment plan and failing to make returns for the same. One of the parties in the case was not ready for the trial to proceed and it was adjourned until December.

FREE MASONS CELEBRATE

THE CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY OF THE ORDER IN NEWBURGH.

Two Hundred Craftsmen Participated in The Exercises and Were Refreshed by an Old-Fashioned Supper—Recalling Old Times.

Those who have been before us have done much, but have not finished everything; yet they are to be looked up to.—Seneca.

A dispatch from Newburgh to THE FREEMAN to-day stated: The Centennial Anniversary of the establishment of Free Masonry in this place was celebrated here last night by Hudson River Lodge, No. 607. Nearly 200 Masons participated. Steuben Lodge, the first lodge in the place, was organized here 100 years ago, and was named after General Steuben, "a General who took a prominent part in the War of the Revolution hereabout. The original charter of Steuben Lodge from the Grand Lodge, also the minute book of Steuben Lodge are in possession of Hudson River Lodge and were exhibited last night. A history of Steuben Lodge and of Masonry in Newburgh was given in an eloquent speech by Charles H. Halsted, a distinguished Free Mason of this City. The Anniversary exercises terminated with a supper of the old-fashioned kind—Boston baked beans, brown bread, Indian pudding, baked apples, sweet cider, etc. Altogether, it was one of the most noteworthy Centennial celebrations held in this vicinity.

A HEAVY FOG ON THE HUDSON RIVER.

Steamboats, Tows and Sailing Craft Completely Stopped.

Like a pall; none could see.—Franks.

One of the densest fogs on the Hudson River this year was that of last night and early this morning. "For several hours navigation practically ceased. Pilots could not see the bows of the boats they were on, and the shores were completely hidden from view by the heavy mass of vapor that enveloped everything. The night passenger steamboats from Troy and Albany were anchored off Hyde Park until daylight this morning. The propeller J. H. Cordis, bound south with a tow, was anchored near the Poughkeepsie Bridge. The pilot said that he ran into one bank of fog that was so thick that a light but few feet away was completely obliterated from view. The propeller J. M. North, from Newburgh to Rondout with a tow, remained off Hyde Park from 2 to 8 o'clock. Other north and south-bound tows are now anchored in the harbor. Boatmen say that there was no gradual gathering of the fog, but that it came suddenly. Sailing vessels dropped anchor all along the River.

OTHER BOATS AND BOATMEN.

The tugs Ellen M. Roman and Saracen were aground on the flats opposite Astor, Saturday morning.

There arrived at tide-water, at Eddyville, yesterday, 44 Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 5,750 tons of coal.

The whistle of the steamer "City of Kingston" was blown at the mouth of the Rondout Creek at 8:50 o'clock last night.

To date the propeller J. H. Cordis, owned by the Cornell Steamboat Company, has made the largest number of round trips between Rondout and New-York of any propeller in that line, this season.

The steambot Mary Powell will be "wintered" at Hudson River at Kingston Point. It will be taken there on Saturday. Captain Anderson secured the services of a mud-digger to deepen the water at that place. After three and a half days' work enough mud and dirt was dug, so that there is now 10 feet of water low water mark. On Friday spring piles will be driven for the Powell to rest against. These piles will also be a barrier to prevent the boat from going against the dyke.

A Mistake in a Restaurant.

As like as not a poor fellow.—Seneca.

An amusing incident occurred in a Rondout restaurant yesterday. One of two brothers, who resemble each other closely, entered the restaurant for his dinner. As he seated himself at the table he was recognized by a friend. After a time the man left the restaurant and his brother entered. The friend, who still was keeping his knife and fork in motion, nodded familiarly again and began winking at the other brother. The latter brother smiled and said: "I do look like my brother, but my brother's stomach is different from mine."

What a Bicyclist Says.

A Kingston bicyclist said to-day: "One of the most difficult things is to learn to ride a wheel on a narrow path. It is the only way a bicyclist can ride in the country in Ulster County. There are paths at the side of nearly every road. The roads are in no condition to run wheels on, but a wheel will run smoothly and swiftly on a path. In learning to ride my wheel on paths I had many tumbles. I had headers, I ran down banks; for these paths in some places are so close to the edge of banks that if you were to lose your balance, when you go over, you would fall over a picket fence, then again down a steep embankment with the wheel on top of me. Now I can ride my wheel on a path a few inches wide without the slightest danger of losing my balance."

A TUSSELS WITH A BIG BEAR,

AS RELATED BY A CORRESPONDENT OF "THE FREEMAN."

The Adventure that Two Hunters Had Near Diamond Lodge, in the Famous Stony Clove, a Day or Two Ago—Caught in a Trap.

"Give me a penny and I will tell you a story."

A correspondent of THE FREEMAN at Lansville writes: A day or two ago, Asa Cronley, accompanied by an old trapper named Gullfuss, tramped through the Catskill Mountains in this vicinity to a point known as Diamond Lodge, to ascertain if steel traps which they had set contained any bears. The men trudged along through the deep bed of decaying leaves that covered the ground, till they were within a short distance from their destination, when they heard the rattling of a chain on the opposite side of a ledge of rocks.

"A bear V' gosh!" exclaimed the elder of the two men, and sure enough, it was a bear and a big fellow at that. The shaggy beast moved slowly and deliberately, and dragged along with it the broken trap from which it was making desperate efforts to escape. As the trappers approached the partially imprisoned animal growled fiercely and made a lunge for Gullfuss.

Hunter Cronley's dog Jumbo distracted the bear's attention by catching the brute's wounded paw between its teeth. With a howl of pain the bear caught the dog in its embrace and nearly crushed the breath out of it before either of the hunters could do anything for the canine's relief. Neither of the hunters wanted to shoot, for their ambition was to take Bruin alive, so they took it out of the brute's tough hide by a shower of blows that compelled it at last to drop the half-dead Jumbo.

The infuriated bear now "went" for Cronley, and would have gone hard with the hunter had he not unheated a long hunting knife and plunged it into the bear behind the ear. Bruin rolled over dead. The carcass was unusually fine and weighed 272 pounds.

Cronley's favorite dog, Jumbo, is expected to die from the effects of the severe hugging it received, and the well-known dog's expected demise has caused quite a commotion among the staid country people hereabout.

SOME AFFAIRS OF LOCAL RAILROADS.

How the West Shore Railroad Fought for Its Employees—Wages Paid to Switchmen.

"The iron horse is a civilization."

Switchmen on the New York Central Railroad will have their wages increased one month and extra pay for Sunday service; head brakemen $65 and ordinary brakemen $60 for day work, and $70 and $75 for night work, respectively.

The new railroad men's building of the West Shore road, at New-Durham, was opened recently. It is a handsome, two-story structure with roomy and commodious rooms, parlor and bathing facilities, and being located where many of the engineers, firemen and shopmen live, it is expected to be freely patronized. There is already a membership of 125, which is expected to be increased to 200 before long. Their fund contributed to the funds for erecting the building. General Superintendent C. W. Bradley, of the West Shore road, who is Chairman of the branch at the Weehawken depot, had charge of the opening exercises.

Many have been the jokes perpetrated at the expense of that truly rural station on the P. J. M. & N. Y. road known as Paradise. Some of them may be, doubtless, are of the mouldy chestnut order; nevertheless they all go towards making up a chapter in the history of the station which is destined to become a place of interest and amusement for the uncomplaining victim. On reaching that point one is apt to hear such remarks as these: "If this is Paradise it is as far towards heaven as I want to go." "If this is Paradise what must its antipodes be? Another will soliloquize to himself: "O, Paradise, O, Paradise, I'm weary waiting here," and again some inconsiderate mortal will laugh right out when the name is called. And now, some of the brakemen call out the station in an undertone, as if dreading the remarks of unregenerate passengers.
